Additivity Paper Review Team:

The Additivity Writing Team has completed a response to comments that I believe you will find to be helpful in reviewing this draft of the paper. I propose that we extend the review period another four weeks and request that your concurrence to move this paper to external peer review be provided by Monday, Feb. 3. If you find that you do not concur with this draft's readiness for external peer review, please discuss your concerns with David, the Review Team lead. Thank you for your continued efforts and diligence.
